

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

All praise, gratitude, and glory be to God by whose everlasting grace and perfect guidance, the Author was able to write and finish this Thesis to obtain a Bachelor of Law Degree in Business Law Concentration at the Faculty of Law of Universitas Pelita Harapan in 2021. The Thesis at hand is titled “JURIDICAL ANALYSIS ON TORT CLAIM BY HOLDER OF SUBROGATION RIGHTS AGAINST A SHIP OWNER DUE TO SHIP COLLISION BASED ON DECISION NO. 10/PDT.G/2013/PN.JBI IN CONJUNCTION WITH THE DECISION OF THE SUPREME COURT DECISION NO. 2366K/PDT/2014”

When the Author had learnt about torts and its implications, she after much research recognized that subrogation in maritime insurance arising from torts was a prominent topic in Indonesia, that had collected the opinions of many legal scholars, researching and debating on its laws and its practice.

These intricacies were hard to ignore when time came for the Author to decide the topic of her dissertation. subrogation in insurance agreements today is not only imperative for Indonesia. However, due to the rise of maritime tort cases it has become a developing force within Indonesia. Therefore, the reasoning behind choosing this topic originates from the Author's interest in the world of marine transportation and its importance for the country of Indonesia.
