(xviii+100 pages; 7 figures; 54 tables; 19 appendices)

Based on preliminary study, Mikie Funland has received negative reviews that reflects dissatisfaction. The purpose of this study was to examine the effect of attraction and amusement facilities, hotel and restaurant services, cost of visit, safety and security, hygienic environment, administration and support service on customer satisfaction at Mikie Funland.

Attraction and amusement facilities, hotel and restaurant services, cost of visit, safety and security, hygienic environment, administration and support service is highly connected with customer satisfaction and company profitability.

Quantitative design with descriptive and causal approaches were used to analyze a sample of 125 customers. Respondents are customers of Mikie Funland taken using non-probability sampling or specifically accidental sampling technique.

The instrument used in this research is questionnaire that passed both validity and reliability tests. The tested data also passed the normality, multicollinearity, and heteroscedasticity test. The hypothesis tests and coefficient of determination shows that all the independent variables affect the dependent variable, either partially or simultaneously.

Based on the findings, the recommendations proposed are they should add more facilities, increase food options, offer free gift with minimum spend, add security staffs, plant more trees, train their staffs, and increase more events.
