FOREWORD

The following paper is written to fulfil the graduation requirements for the thesis course at the Undergraduate Department of Law, Faculty of Law at Universitas Pelita Harapan. The author expresses her gratitude and blessings to God Almighty for His abundant grace so that I could complete this research paper titled: “An Examination of the Validity of Smart Contracts and Their Interpretation under Indonesian Law”. The author’s deepest appreciation also goes to the following individuals, who without them, the completion of thesis would not have been possible:

1. Dr. Velliana Tanaya, S.H., M.H., as the Dean of the Faculty of Law in Universitas Pelita Harapan, who was my academic advisor as well as thesis supervisor. She has been my biggest supporter throughout this journey and was incredibly helpful and kind throughout my research and writing process. She encouraged me even when I was doubtful of myself. I would like to thank her for constantly giving me valuable guidance and answering all my questions, not only in writing my thesis, but throughout my years in UPH.
2. Dr. Fajar Sugianto, S.H., M.H., as the Director of Administration and Student Affairs at the Faculty of Law, Universitas Pelita Harapan.
3. Dr. Vincensia Esti Purnama Sari, S.H, M.Hum., as the Department Chair of the Faculty of Law, Universitas Pelita Harapan.

4. Jerry Shalmont, S.H., M.H., as Deputy Head of Department of the Faculty of Law, Universitas Pelita Harapan.
5. All Lecturers of the Faculty of Law, Universitas Pelita Harapan who have educated and provided knowledge during lectures.
6. My precious family and friends who have constantly given me love and support throughout the years for which I am grateful.
7. All parties who have helped and cannot be mentioned one by one.

Because of the kindness the author has received from all of the mentioned individuals above, the author was able to complete this thesis as well as possible. The author realizes that due to her limited knowledge, this thesis is far from perfect. However, the author hopes that this thesis will be useful in adding to the literature regarding smart contracts. Once again, I humbly thank you.
