

PREFACE

Above of all, a very deep gratitude goes to God the Almighty for His blessings, guidance, and kindness so that the author can complete this thesis as a final requirement to the degree of Sarjana Ekonomi Strata Satu of Program Studi Manajemen, Fakultas Ekonomi, Universitas Pelita Harapan Surabaya.

This thesis with the title of “THE EFFECT OF SALESPERSON ATTRIBUTES AND PRICING STRATEGIES ON CONSUMER BUYING DECISION IN MATAHARI DEPARTMENT STORE CITY OF TOMORROW SURABAYA” is hoped to provide information and knowledge for the society and can be useful for future researches conducted by other students.

In the process of accomplishment of this thesis, the author got a lot of supports and guidance from a number of people and feels like to mention a word of thanks to them. These awesome people are:

1. Prof. Louie Divinagracia., M.Sc., DBA. As the Dean of Fakultas Ekonomi Universitas Pelita Harapan Surabaya
2. Ronald Suryaputra, S.T., M.M. as the Head of Program Studi Manajemen Universitas Pelita Harapan Surabaya
3. Heru Wijayanto, MM., MBA., MMT. as the Advisor of this Final Paper who was willing to kindly guide and share his knowledge to the author. He sincerely gave feedback and comments as soon as possible for the sake of the author.
4. Oliandes Sondakh, S.E.,M.M. as the Co-Advisor of this Final Paper who was willing to give time and energy to supports the author in whatever situation. Her encouragement and motivation gave the author a confidence in doing this thesis.
5. Prof. Maria Rochelle D., M.Sc., DBA. as the Academic Advisor of the International Class of Management who has been guided the author for this four years and has become a great “mother” for international class. She has taught the author many things about knowledge and life.

6. Amelia S.E., RFP-I., M.M as the panelist who gave many positive feedbacks for this thesis improvement.
7. Gracia Sudargo, S.S, M.Hum who taught the author on academic writing and also helped for the presentation slide creation.
8. My beloved parents, siblings, and families whose prayers and supports were really valuable for the author. Their encouragements are irreplaceable for the author.
9. My awesome hangout friends that always accompany me and share many wonderful times together: Richard, Nehemia, Erick, Dandy, Steve, and Amin. We always share the joy and difficulties together whatever the situation is. They give motivations and also sense of togetherness as a family to the author.
10. My fellow amazing colleagues in class who helped and gives support to finish this thesis: Eldwen, Lisa, Monita, Hendrik, Tian, Prio, Williem, Evy, Joyce, Sherlita, Stella, William, Elza, and Rosi. The four years memory with these colleagues will remain forever.
11. My childhood friends who grow up with the author together, always motivating each other, improving each other and strengthen each other through prayer and many experiences: Erfin, Agus, Enrick, and Eddy.
12. Lecturers of International Class of Management who were willing to share their knowledge to the author.
13. A lot of people that the author can not mention one by one who already gave their supports and prayers.

The author apologizes if there is any mistake in writing this thesis and hopes that this thesis can provide useful information to the people who read it.

This page is dedicated to Oliandes Sondakh, S.E.,M.M for her tireless efforts and supports so that the Author can achieve the best result in this thesis. This page tells about the author experience and admiration to her.

Ms. Oliandes Sondakh, S.E.,M.M has become my lecturer at international class of management since the sixth semester. At that time, my first impression she was a strict lecturer. But as the time goes on, I started to see her as a really kind lecturer who can understand each of her students well and willing to help their problems. She made the classes we had to be more alive and refreshing within our pressured university life of many assignments, projects, papers and exams from the other classes. She really loves to make her student to smile *lol* :D. Later I knew that it was her dream to become lecturer. She wants to share knowledge to the students and experiences university life. I am really amazed on her decision to be lecturer rather than work in other companies. It really shows her dedication.

What that I really like in her is her honest and blunt way of speaking that always give feedbacks and improvement for the good of the others. Thanks to her, I have improved in many ways. I also admire her willingness to sacrifice. She always prioritizes other people before herself. It was shown on her tireless effort in making company visit programs, advisory classes and also for our graduation. She is willing to sacrifice her energy and time to help the students even in her tiredness and lack of rest. When she is onto something, she will strive for it with her best for the good of other people, this is why I really admire her and make her as a my role model.

We also share many funny experiences, I sang in her class because of my lateness, jokes together in the sixth floor that cause everyone to stare at us, thesis advising time with full of laugh, and many else :D. In spite of that, she keeps her professionalism as a lecturer. She gave her best in supporting me forming this thesis. Her endless motivation made me keep going forward and built my confidence. Finally, I got the best result on my thesis and I am really grateful and proud on having her as my advisor. ☺ Thank you Miss Oli for guiding me! Always remember this phrase: I am a clever student who has a critical thinking ☺
