

PREFACE

This thesis would not be complete if it was not for the immense amount of love and support I have received during its making. In handing this in I would firstly like to thank the Lord God Almighty for giving me the strength, knowledge, and capability to proceed successfully. I am grateful for his guidance and blessing throughout my life, to which this achievement would not be possible without.

I am grateful for my parents, William Sanjaya and Riana Lim, who have backed me up throughout this entire journey, and given me their unconditional love and care, and supported me emotionally and financially for my years in university, who I know will continue to do so in times to come.

To Ms. Elyzabeth B.Nasution, S.I.P., M.A., as my thesis advisor and the head of the department of International Relations, who has been so patient as to make time for her advisees despite her hectic schedule, as well as Dr. Edwin M.B. Tambunan, S.I.P., M.Si., as the dean of the Faculty of Social and Political Science, I thank you for giving me this opportunity to complete this thesis. I acknowledge my gratitude to Yosef D.M.Djakababa, Ph.D. who has been my academic advisor for the past three years, as well as all the other staff and lecturers of International Relations who have filled me with the knowledge necessary to complete this report.

I am deeply grateful for all my friends and classmates who have walked this journey alongside me, especially to the ones who have been there from the beginning all the way to the end. To James Limantara, Yarra Zarmansyah, and Christie Santara, thank you for being my main support system. I would also like to give thanks to some of my close friends outside of IR who had been there for me during my time in UPH, including my team from flag football, Shari Mashill, Kevin Pardede, Kevin Adrian, Brian Kartono, Kelvin Arventa, Stefanus Dani and Syahrissa Seputra, those from Movie Production Club, Joshua Budijanto, Vicky Andaraputri, and Exsell Naufal, as well as Benson Felix and my friends from Architecture who have helped me immensely all this time. Your companionship throughout these years have been the reason I push through despite all the hardships.

Furthermore, I would like to thank everyone back at Greenpeace Australia Pacific, where I had my internship. The experience I was given had given me a wider view of the world, and the information I had gathered had been useful in creating this thesis.

To those who reading this, I hope that this thesis is adequate in providing you helpful and beneficial information on future studies relating to the topic. I hope that readers would not only understand, but also empathize with the ongoing situation, and be moved to make a bigger impact to save the environment.
