

PREFACE

This thesis is written to fulfill the academic requirement in obtaining Bachelor's Degree in Social Science in International Relations of Universitas Pelita Harapan. I would like to show sincere gratefulness to God and several people who have helped me in finishing this thesis.

Firstly, praise be to the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ for His kindness, wisdom, and grace, that I may have the opportunity to learn in the International Relations major of Universitas Pelita Harapan and compose this thesis as a final requirement before achieving Bachelor's Degree. May His name alone be glorified. I am grateful of my parents as well, Hermanto Chandra and Meliana Gonadi, who have been supportive to me no matter what I do.

I am also thankful toward Dr. Edwin M.B. Tambunan, S.I.P., M.Si. as the Dean of Faculty of Social and Political Science for the opportunity to conduct this study that I may gain broader knowledge and experience. I express immense gratitude toward Elyzabeth B. Nasution, S.I.P., M.A. as the head of International Relations Department, thesis advisor, and academic advisor. It has been a pleasure to complete my thesis under her supervision and receive all her help and insight.

Furthermore, I would like to show profound appreciation and gratitude toward my greatest support system, Adelia Jovani and Tasha Adelina, who always encourage me along the way, not only during the process of this thesis, but also in my life. To my fellow acquaintances throughout all these years of learning in International Relations major, Shannon Karauwan, Ribka Melissa, and Stella Angelina, I am sincerely thankful for your support and companionship as well.

Last but not least, I would like to show recognition to all lecturers and classmates in the international class of International Relations batch 2016, who have been on this journey together with me. It has been a fun ride. None of this would be possible without them.

Finally, I hope that this thesis could be helpful for the readers and future research of the related topic. Any feedbacks and suggestions are welcomed.
