

PREFACE

With appreciation and full of gratitude, I would firstly like to thank God for His blessings and mercy so that this thesis can finish well. This thesis is structured to meet the general expectation assigned by the Faculty, and written as one of the academic requirements to obtain Bachelor Degree in Social Science. The purpose of this thesis is to provide insights and explanations to readers in regards to The US Security Foreign Policy in Indo-Pacific and Its Implications Toward Southeast Asia: An Analysis from Realist perspective.

Second, I would like to thank give my utter sincere appreciation to:

1. To my beloved family, who always have been so loving, caring, and giving me endless motivation to achieve what I believe in. For providing me with enough knowledge and opportunity to learn. For always giving the best you possibly can.
2. To Dr. Edwin M. B. Tambunan, S.I.P., M.Si. as the Dean of the Faculty and Ms. Elyzabeth Bonethe Nasution S.I.P., M.A. as the Head of International Relations program and UPH MUNC Advisor. Thank you for teaching us all the important things. Thank you for insisting us to study and pay attention when we did not want to.
3. I would like to express my very best appreciation and special thank you to Mrs. Amelia J. R. Liwe, S.S., M.A., Ph.D. as my thesis advisor and lecturer for three years. I am beyond blessed to have your guidance and patience in teaching me in class and for guiding me through this thesis.
4. Mr. Roy Pratikno, thank you for teaching me throughout my university years. Thank you for sharing your insights and giving us a little bit of fun in the classroom, for not making it boring. Thank you for sparing your time and giving your feedbacks on my University life.
5. Thank you to Mr. Edwin Tambunan, Mr. Jasmanto, Mrs. Reggianie Christy, and all of the other lecturers, thank you for teaching us for these past three years. Thank you for all the memories and lessons that you shared to us. This thesis will not happen without all of you.

6. To all the people I met throughout my Internship in UNDP and INADIS. On this occasion, I would like to once again, express my sincere gratitude for teaching and making me feel like I belong there. For welcoming me like one of your own. I learned a lot from you, and may we cross path again soon.
7. Most heartfelt thank you to Lukas Hernandio, Surya Raditya, Reza Abisha, Lady Diandra, Yuri Nurrahim, Jeffry Hariwijaya, Jordan Tampubolon, Ben Halim, and my friends that I cannot mention. Thank you for being there and keep doing what you always do to support me.
8. To HI International Class batch 2014, and all my friends who never stop supporting me from the beginning, your names hold a special meaning to me, and you know who you are. Thank you, for guiding me even if we are going through the same thing. Thank you for easing during the stressful time and cheering during the happy time.
9. To UPH MUN Community, for giving me the best memories. Through the ups and downs, some of us are graduating this year and some have left me. Thank you. Those memories are the ones I will hold on to. Especially for the Freshmen!
10. To all the staffs from International Relations Division. Thank you for providing and helping students with their administrative matters, even in the last minute.

I am aware that there may be flaws in the writing of this paper, in terms of material, technical, and physical. Therefore, I am open to constructive criticism and suggestions to further refine this writing. I hope that this writing can contribute to the study of IR and provide useful insights for readers that seek information as such.
