

ACKNOWLEDGMENT

First and foremost, the author would like to gratitude, praise and forever glorify the almighty God, Jesus Christ. The author was able to write and finish this Thesis as one of the prerequisites to obtain the Bachelor of Law Degree in Business Law Concentration at the Faculty of Law of Universitas Pelita Harapan in 2019. The Thesis at hand is titled “JURIDICAL ANALYSIS OF INDIRECT EXPROPRIATION OF FOREIGN DIRECT INVESTMENT.”

The reason behind the determining of this topic embarks from the Author's concern and interest in the scope of international investment, economic globalization and the growth of the Indonesian domestic economic growth. It is according to the Author's opinion that this topic is very relevant to the rapidly and unavoidable growth of economic globalization around the world.

The Author acknowledges that the work of this Thesis as well as the several years of completing Law School is not strictly an individual effort and achievement by the Author, but rather a collective one as the Author is assisted and supported by many. Having said so, the Autor would like to extend his most gratitude towards those who joined the journey of effort, namely:

1. Prof. Dr. Bintan R. Saragih, S.H., as the Dean of the Faculty of Law Universitas Pelita Harapan and as the Lecturer of this course who has given me this opportunity to practice in formulating this Thesis.
2. Dr. Vincensia Esti Purnama Sari, S.H., M.Hum., as the Head of Faculty of Law Universitas Pelita Harapan.

3. Dr. Velliana Tanaya, S.H., M.H., as the Director of Faculty of Law Universitas Pelita Harapan.
4. Dr. Jonker Sihombing, SE., SH., MH., MA., as the Author's Thesis advisor who consistently assists and guides the Author throughout the formulation and the writing of this Thesis. The Author is utterly grateful to having him as a caring advisor.
5. Author's coach during Foreign Direct Investment Moot, Ms. Jessica Los Banos, LL.B., MTM., M.B.A., for seeing and believing in my potential more than I ever could, and for pushing me to always strive for nothing less than the best.
6. Author's father, Sonny Samuel, who accepts the many flaws that I have, for his endless love and support. Thank you very much for waking up early every morning to provide for our family and thank you for being my daily inspiration. Keep The Blue Flag Flying High!
7. Author's mother, Rica Samuel, who never fail to believe in me. Who finds value in me even nobody, even myself could see. Thank you for all the endless prayer and love to me.
8. Author's siblings, Ika, Daniel, and Gabriel, who had managed to support me endlessly and thank you for always bringing up a smile to my face.
9. Author's girlfriend, Glorynda Irianti Sainding, who managed to stay patient during the tough transition time from intern days to the struggles of finalizing this thesis. Thank you for always putting your believe in me, your endless support and love.
10. Author's best friends, Joshua Syukran Tobing, Gregorius Randell, Kresno NINDITO, Claresta Cintadita, Antonius Padua Bagaskara, Raldo Mandey and Haruchika Setiadi.

11. Author's college companions, all the UFC members, Geovan Salvin, Michael Harris and Jason Lathianza, for making my years in UPH not only bearable, but extremely memorable.
12. Author's Law Faculty Football Team and Eagles, thank you for the memories through the ups and downs.
13. My Foreign Direct Investment Moot family. To my own team, thank you for an unforgettable experience from our basecamp days to Buenos Aires, Argentina. To the 2016 team, Indith, Sabrina Tobing, and Felix, thank you for an amazing time in both Seoul, South Korea and Buenos Aires, Argentina.
14. Lastly, to everyone who has directly or indirectly contributes to the completion of this Thesis, whom the Author cannot credit one-by-one, the author extends his sincerest gratitude. The Author realizes that this Thesis is far from perfect. Thus, any advice, critiques, suggestions, or comments are more than welcome. The Author sincerely hopes that this Thesis will benefit those who read it and bring a positive contribution to the development of Indonesia's legal system and education.
