ANALYSIS OF FACTORS INFLUENCING ENTREPRENEURIAL INTENTION IN FRESH GRADUATES IN JAKARTA

x + 109 pages: 21 tables, 11 figures

This study is motivated by the growing need for young entrepreneurs in Jakarta, driven by rapid economic growth and the increasingly competitive job market. Fresh graduates face various opportunities and challenges in starting new businesses. Therefore, it is crucial to understand the factors influencing Entrepreneurial Intention among recent graduates. This research aims to analyze the influence of Self-efficacy, Entrepreneurship Education, Risk Taking Tendency, Motivation, and Advance in Technology on Entrepreneurial Intention among fresh graduates in Jakarta. This study employs a quantitative method with a Partial Least Squares Structural Equation Modeling (PLS-SEM) approach. The sample consists of 181 respondents selected using purposive sampling, and data were collected through a questionnaire. The results show that Entrepreneurship Education, Risk Taking Tendency, and Self-efficacy have a positive and significant impact on Entrepreneurial Intention. However, the variables Motivation and Advance in Technology did not show a significant influence in this context. In conclusion, Entrepreneurship Education, risk-taking ability, and self-confidence are key factors driving Entrepreneurial Intention among fresh graduates in Jakarta. This study highlights the importance of developing more holistic entrepreneurship programs to support the increase in entrepreneurial intentions among the younger generation.
