(xvi) 130 halaman; 38 tabel; 8 gambar; 7 lampiran

The purpose of this study is to determine the ATEE (affective, behavioral, and cognitive components), entrepreneurial self-efficacy, entrepreneurial intentions, and social norms. To determine the effect of ATEE (affective, behavioral, and cognitive components) on entrepreneurial intentions ATEE (affective, behavioral, and cognitive components) on entrepreneurial self-efficacy, entrepreneurial self-efficacy on entrepreneurial intentions, entrepreneurial self-efficacy that mediates ATEE (affective, behavioral, and cognitive components) on entrepreneurial intentions, social norms that moderate ATEE (affective, behavioral, and cognitive components) on entrepreneurial self-efficacy, and control variables on entrepreneurial intentions. The research conducted used quantitative methods. Respondents of this study were business management students of private universities in Tangerang city. The analysis used in this study was PLS-SEM using the SmartPLS 4 application. This research was conducted with a pre-test of 30 respondents and then continued with actual testing of 160 respondents. The results of the study showed that if ATEE (affective, behavioral, and cognitive components) has a positive effect on Entrepreneurial Intentions, ATEE (affective, behavioral, and cognitive components) has a positive effect on Entrepreneurial Self-efficacy, Entrepreneurial Self-efficacy has a positive effect in mediating ATEE (affective, behavioral, and cognitive components) and Entrepreneurial Self-efficacy, Social Norms have no effect on ATEE (affective and cognitive components) and Entrepreneurial Self-efficacy but on ATEE (behavioral components).

Keywords: ATEE (affective, behavioral, and cognitive components), Entrepreneurial Self-efficacy, Social Norms, Entrepreneurial Intentions and Control Variables.
