The Influence of Green Social Behavior, Technology Innovation, Social Innovation, Business Innovation, and Knowledge Management on Entrepreneurial Success of Generation Z Business Actors in Tangerang

(xviii + 95 Pages; 3 Figures; 34 Table; 2 Appendices)

This study aims to analyze the influence of green social behaviors, technology innovation, social innovation, business innovation and knowledge management on entrepreneurial success of generation Z business actors in the city of Tangerang. This study uses a quantitative research method by distributing questionnaires involving generation Z business actors in the city of Tangerang. Data were collected through questionnaires distributed online and analyzed using the regression method to test the relationship between variables. The results of this study indicate a positive and significant influence of the green social behavior variable on technology innovation, social innovation and business innovation. Likewise, the influence of green social behavior on entrepreneurship success mediated by technology innovation, social innovation and business innovation. However, the influence of knowledge management as a moderator variable on the relationship between technology innovation and entrepreneurial success, on the relationship between business innovation and entrepreneurial success and on the relationship between social innovation and entrepreneurial success is not supported. This study is important to identify the variables that influence entrepreneurial success by considering environmental issues. Innovations that need to be done and knowledge management that can support the success of business actors by paying attention to environmental sustainability
